CHAPTER I.

GENERAL.

Introductory.

Jhalawar is an Indian State in Rajputana with an area of 810 square miles and a population of 96,198 (Census of 1911). It consists of two detached parts. The main portion, which comprises the Capital, Jhalrapatan, is serpentine in shape and is about 85 miles long and from 3 to 17 miles broad. It is bounded on the North and North-east by the Kotah State, and on the other sides by the outlying districts of Gwalior, Indore, Dewas and Tonk States. The second portion is a very small tract, known as Kirpapur, situated between the outlying districts of Gwalior and Mewar States.

Revenue.—The gross revenue of the State for the year under report amounted to Rs. 6,65,865. The average of the last five years was about 6 lakhs.

Imperial Tribute.—The State pays a tribute of Rs. 30,000 a year to the British Government.

Ruling Family.—The present Ruler of the State, His Highness the Maharaj Rana Sir Bhawani Singh Bahadur K. C. S. I., belongs to the Jhala clan of Rajputs and is now 45 years of age.

Heir-apparent.—Maharaj Kumar Rajendra Singh Bahadur was born on the 15th July, 1900. He has left the Mayo College, where he studied up to the Diploma Class, and His Highness contemplates sending him to England for further education.

Agency Officials.—Lt. Col. A. D. Macpherson remained in charge of the Political Agency, Kotah and Jhalawar, from the 2nd August to the 7th November, 1918, when he was relieved by Lt. Colonel C. J. Windham, C.I.E., I.A. who has been in charge of the office upto the end of the year under report.

Agency Surgeon.—Dr. Ram Lal, L.M. & S., Assistant Surgeon, remained in charge of the Agency Surgeon's office, under the visiting charge of Major C. B. Mc. Conaghy, I.M.S., from the 1st October, 1918 to 23rd January, 1919, and of Lt. Colonel J. W. Watson, I.M.S., from the 30th January to 30th September 1919, respectively.

His Highness

Visit to Kishengarh.—Immediately on the receipt of a telegram from His Highness the Maharaja of Kishengarh, communicating the news of Maji Maharani Rathorji Sahiba's illness, His Highness proceeded to Kishengarh on the 21st December. Unfortunately, the Maharani Sahiba passed away before His Highness's arrival at Kishengarh. After performing the Tija rite His Highness returned to Jhalrapatan on the 25th idem. He observed full mourning and performed all the rites in connection with her demise as prescribed by the Shastras. All the State Offices were closed for 12 days as a mark of respect and there was a Hartal, for three days.

Visit to Delhi and illness.—His Highness proceeded to Delhi on the 25th January 1919, to attend the third session of the Ruling Princes and Chiefs' Conference. His Highness performed the journey to keep this appointment and attended the informal meeting of the Princes on the 16th January although suffering considerable pain from carbuncle. The idea of attending further meetings had to be given up owing to His Highness's ill-health and increasing pain. Col. Austen Smith C. I. E., M. B., I. M. S., Private Physician to His Excellency the Viceroy, was called in. He strongly advised that His Highness should be operated on without delay. Accordingly, on the 18th January His Highness was operated on by Col. Austin Smith and Col. C. H. James, the Civil Surgeon of Delhi, but the relief was temporary and His Highness had to undergo another operation on the 21st January. This, and a third on the 28th January were attended with no better result.

His Highness' strength was now much reduced by his illness, the incessant pain and the operations, all of which he bore with cheerful and uncomplaining fortitude, but he decided without hesitation to undergo a fourth operation, although its performance caused much anxiety. It took place on February 3rd, 1919. For about 2 days His Highness' condition was precarious, but more favourable symptoms then showed themselves, and in a week, to the great relief of all, it was clear that His Highness was steadily though slowly recovering.

By the end of March, all apprehensions as regards the recrudescence of the disease had ceased, but as His Highness was much pulled down by his long suffering, the Doctors advised him to proceed to Simla at once to recruit his health.

During His Highness's illness the people of Jhalawar, Hindus and Moham-madans alike, showed their sympathy for his sufferings and the deepest anxiety for his recovery. Women took vows and kept fasts, and men and even children regularly offered their prayers to the Almighty for His aid. The poor were fed and alms were distributed. When the convalescence of His Highness was established there was a sense of general relief throughout the State. A great debt is due to the Doctors for their vigilant and unremitting care.

It may be noted here that during His Highness's illness at Delhi, Their Highness of Kashmir, Kotah, Kolahpur, Dhrangdhara, Bundi, Sitamau, Bharat-pur, Dholpur, Jamnagar, Limbdi, Baria, Wankaner, and many others including severel European Officers, came to make enquiries personally. Those who could not come in person sent their representatives. His Highness was deeply grateful for the universal sympathy evnced.

Although advised by the Doctors to proceed without delay to Simla, His Highness, in response to the earnest prayers of his subjects, altered his plans and reached Jhalrapatan on the 8th March, 1919, amid the joyful acclama-tions of his people. The towns of Chhaoni and Patan were decorated and illuminated and addresses befitting the occasion were presented to His Highness.

In a public Darbar on the 16th April, His Highness was pleased to bestow Rs 3,000/- as Khilats, on each of the Surgeons who attended him, in recognition of their sympathy and unremitting care, while His Highness was under their treatment at Delhi. Several other persons of the State, who attended His Highness during his illness were also suitably rewarded.

Visit to Simla—His Highness left for Simla on the 18th April, for a change of climate and to recoup his health. He stayed there for about three months and returned to Jhalrapatan on the 23rd July, 1919.

Visit to Bombay—His Highness proceeded to Bombay on the 25th August, 1919, to make purchases in connection with the approaching wedding of Shri Maharaj Kumar Bahadur, and returned to Jhalrapatan on the 6th September, 1919.

The demise of Her Highness Maharani Hadiji, Sahiba, His Highness's only Consort, took place on the 25th October, 1918, after a protracted illness of several months. The death of the noble and kind-hearted "Raj Mata" was a severe blow to His Highness and all the people of Jhalawar. Her Highness's obsequies were duly performed by His Highness. Hartal was observed for 3 days, and all offices were closed for 12 days. Under the orders of the State Council mourning was observed for six months.

After Her Highness's death, the only surviving elderly lady of the Ruling House being the Maharani Maji Rathorji Sahiba, His Highness had decided to bring her back from Kishengarh, though his previous efforts to do so had met with little success. Accordingly, on the receipt of a telegram, intimating that the Maji Sahiba was on her sick-bed, His Highness at once proceeded to Kishengarh. Unfortunately the Maji Sahiba passed away before His Highness's arrival.

3. The Darbar deeply regret the death, which occurred during the year, of the under-mentioned personages in whose honour all the State Offices and Courts were closed for one day—

4. Succession of Bhai Sobhag Singhji to the estate of Kaka Chhatra Salji Sahib.—For a long time past His Highness had been thinking of reinstating the Thikana of Kaka Chhatra Salji (father of His present Highness). Accordingly, he selected one Kanwar Pirthvi Singh to succeed to the estate of the deceased Kaka Sahib and on the 17th April, 1919, His Highness duly installed him under the title of Bhai Sobhag Singhji. He was granted full Tazim and also the village 'Borda' in Jagir as Pet Roti (for maintenance). Bhai Sobhag Singhji is being educated at the Darbar High School, Jhalrapatan, and is a boarder at the Parmanand Hostel.

5. Accident to Shri Maharaj Kumar Bahadur:—During his stay at Simla in May 1919, the Maharaj Kumar, while out for a walk, slipped and fell into a deep pit by the side of the road. Luckily after rolling a few yards down the pit he was caught in some bushes. Dr. Shiromani Hazra, his personal Medical Attendant bravely climbed down to the spot where his ward lay, and with the assistance of Dr. Nain Singh, who was one of the party, succeeded in rescuing the Maharaj Kumar. In recognition of Dr. Hazra's meritorious services, His Highness was pleased to bestow on him a Khilat of Rs 1,000.

2. Armistice & Peace Celebrations:—Celebrations, in connection with the capitulation of Turkey and Austria and peace with Bulgaria, were held at the Capital on a befitting scale. The occasion was marked by a public holiday and a garden party.

At the announcement of the happy news of the Allied Victory and Armistice with Germany, which took place on the 11th November, 1918, at 11 A. M., a public holiday was observed at Jhalrapatan on the 18th of November and a salute of 101 guns was fired at day break from the ramparts of the Garh Fort. All the streets of Chhaoni were decorated with bunting and flags and the whole town was illuminated in the evening. A procession of all the State troops marched through the principal streets of the Chhaoni from 3 to 5 P. M. Sweets were distributed to all the students and official community of Jhalrapatan, and in the evening His Highness, in spite of the deep mourning he was observing owing to the demise of the Maharani Sahiba, was "At home" to all the principal Sirdars, Jagirdars, and officials of the State, and addressed a public meeting to give expression to the joy he felt on the occasion. In a brief speech he explained the meaning of the celebrations and said there was every reason for the people to be happy and proud of the fact that they were today partners of the Greatest Empire the world had ever seen.

After His Highness's speech three cheers were given for His Imperial Majesty the King Emperor while the State Band played "God save the King."

After three cheers for His Highness, the Jhalawar Anthem closed the proceedings.

On the 27th November, when celebrations in honour of the Armistice were held in British India, a public holiday was observed in Jhalawar, and celebrations befitting the occasion were held.

3. Peace with Germany:—The peace with Germany was signed on the 28th June, 1918. Celebrations in connection with the signing of the Peace Treaty were held in England on the 19th July. The season being unsuitable for India, the Government of India thought it fit to hold celebrations on a grand scale befitting the occasion on some date during the ensuing winter. But with a view that the day may not pass away totally un-observed in India, a public holiday was observed and rejoicings on a small scale were held throughout India. Under His Highness's telegraphic orders from Simla, where he had gone for a change of climate, a public holiday was observed on the 19th July, and general meeting was held in the precincts of the Garh Palace, where the Peace Terms were read out by Babu Chheda Lalji, the Revenue Member. A salute was fired from the ramparts of the Fort and State Band played the National Anthem. Sports were held, and after sunset a pyrotechnic show brought the meeting to a successful close.

4. War with Afghanistan:—On the outbreak of hostilities with Afghanistan, His Excellency addressed the following letter to His Highness on the 9th July, 1919:—

"I greatly regret to inform you that the Amir Amanulla has, without warning and without provocation, moved troops to the Indian frontier and has committed acts of hostility which render inevitable a collision between our forces and those of Afghanistan.

I enclose for your Highness's information a copy of the official announcement which has been issued on the subject. From this it will be seen that after the assassination of the late Amir Habibulla, his third son, Amanulla Khan, seized the throne, and with the enforced approval of an assembly of elders and notables, specially convened for the purpose, condemned to death Col. Ali-Raza, the supposed murderer, and imprisoned for life Sardar Nasrulla Khan, the brother of the late Ruler. The suspicion grew strong, however, that the real assassins had escaped and that innocent persons had been made to suffer in their stead. The occupants of high offices, and even Amanulla himself, were suspected of complicity in the crime, and discontentment and disaffection appear to have spread rapidly through the State. As Amanulla's position became more and more insecure, he evidently resolved, like many others in similar case, to lead his people into war in order to divert their thoughts from internal affairs, and in the hope that victory might unite them in allegiance with him.

In making this audacious and wanton attack upon India, the Amir is guilty of the grossest ingratitude because, as the world knows, the Government of India have given constant and generous proofs of their friendship towards his country. Amanulla's insensate policy contrasts deplorably with the wisdom and statemanship which characterised Habibulla's reign, and it will sooner or later be condemned by all sober and right-minded people in the State.

We are fully prepared to meet the attack, since we possess over-whelming superiority in the materials of war, such as artillery, machine-guns, aeroplanes and transport, while troops are numerous and well trained, and ample reserves are at our disposal from the recent theatres of war, should they be required. We, therefore, have every hope that, if conflict must occur, victory will be speedy.

To the many Muslims, both in British India and the States, the outbreak of war with a neighbouring Muslim power must necessarily be a matter of distress. They will learn, however from the terms of the public announcements that the quarrel was unsought and unprovoked by us, and I am convinced that, true to their splendid traditions, they will remain firm in their devotion to the British Government, which has brought peace and prosperity to them and other people of India.

I need hardly ask that Your Highness will do all that lie in your power to guide and encourage your Muslim subjects at this moment.

Further, we must anticipate that, both in British India and the States, a war on the frontier may swell the forces of disorder, since to ill-balanced minds it will appear to afford an opportunity for rejecting restraints which are imposed in the interests of order and good government. For this reason, it is necessary to watch closely the activities of persons who may be bent on creating excitement and trouble and to be prepared with measures for the prevention or suppression of any agitation or disturbance that may manifest itself.

In all these matters I feel assured that I can place full reliance, as in the past, on Your Highness's utmost support and co-operation during the period of stress which may lie before us."

In response to the above the following letter was sent to the Viceroy by His Highness:—

"Your Excellency's letter of the 9th instant enclosing a press communiqué on the acts of open hostilities committed by Amir Amanulla of Afghanistan, has been redirected to me from Jhalrapatan where it was forwarded.

The Act of hostility on the part of the Amir, who is after all a usurper of his father's throne, marks a departure from the professed friendliness of his father and himself and an ungrateful return of the many kindnesses they have received at the hands of the British Government. Coming as it does without warning and provocation in violation of treaty obligations and friendly assurances, it must be dealt with as an act of treachery of the blackest dye, and no Indian, Hindu or Mohomedan, actuated by moral impulses—not to speak of loyalty or political allegiance—can be expected to sympathise with this treacherous aggressor, who may loose the hounds of war for the blood-shed of thousands without any just cause.

The attempt to measure strength with the powerful British Government, who can count upon the active assistance of hundreds of true allies and millions of loyal subjects and employ their vast resources, is the outcome of mad illusion and is a desperate leap in the dark to avoid ruin from local disturbances.

I have no shadow of doubt that the victory of our arms will be speedy and the act of treacherous Amir will soon prove suicidal.

In a matter like this Your Excellency can certainly rest fully assured of my utmost support and cooperation, and it will only be a pleasure to me to be able to render my personal services at this hour of trouble.

As regards the Mohammadan subjects of my State I can venture to say that they are already trained and guided in the right direction of helping the British Government against the treacherous Amir who has lost the sympathy of all right-thinking Mohemmadans by having a hand in his father's murder and insulting his memory by breaking his words of honour and solemn undertakings.

As I am here at present, Your Excellency may command me for any personal service I am capable of, and although I am not yet quite fit, I will be second to none in carrying out your wishes with readiness and enthusiasm. Besides, the resources of my State are at Your Excellency's disposal whenever required for any useful purpose towards the object of punishing the aggressor.

5. War Lectures:—The War Lectures inaugurated in the year 1915, for the dissemination of right and well-founded news among the people of Jhalawar, were continued upto the month of December, 1918, when they had to be stopped owing to the sudden illness of His Highness at Delhi, and the end of war in the month of June, brought the series to a successful close.

CHAPTER IV.

REVENUE ADMINISTRATION.

Personne:—Babu Chheda Lalji remained in charge of the Revenue Department throughout the year.

Administration of Land.

For Révenue purposes the main portion of the State is divided into six Tehsils, viz. Patan, Shrichhatrapur, Pachpahar, Awar, Dag and Gangdhar. The Tehsildars, besides being Revenue Collectors, are invested with Judicial powers, both civil and criminal. The isolated tract of Kirpapur is under a Manager who exercises the powers of a Tehsildar. The six Tehsils and the tract of Kirpapur are under the direct control of Malsadar (Head office of the Revenue Department).

Area:—The total area of the land is, according to professional survey, 5,27,210 acres, out of which 1, 54,633 acres were, in the year under report, Jagir and Muafi holdings, leaving 3,72,577 acres as Khalsa lands. Jinswar records, as detailed below, are available for 3,62,395 acres of Khalsa lands only, those for Kirpapur tract (10,182 acres) being unavailable:—

				Acres.
1.	Not available for cultivation	86,639
2.	Culturable waste other than fallow (including grass and gardens)...			1,60,689
3.	Forest including Hankas	4,227
4.	Current fallow	16,957
5.	Area cropped during the year:—
	Piwat (irrigated land)	8,432
	Mal (Dry land)	85,451
				93,883
	Total	3,62,395

Demand and Collections:—The total demand and collections of land revenue and cesses etc. for the year under report, amounted to Rs. 4,58,231-10-8 and 4,45,426-1-4 respectively, the corresponding figures for the previous year being demand Rs. 4,27,904-12-10 and collections 4,20,925-13-9

The extra-ordinary increase in current year's demand over that of the previous year is due mainly to the following items:—

- (1) Increase on account of Jagirs having lapsed to the State lands:—
- (a) Maji Rathorji Sahiba (Ghatod, Shamia, Guraria, Ganeshpura and Alawa of Tehsil Srichhatrapur) Rs 17,501 15 7
- (b) Seth Lalchandji (Semli and Khatakhera of Tehsil Pachpahar, Detiakheri of Tehsil Patan, and Guraria Gañ of Tehsil Gangdhar) Rs 7,318 3 3
- (c) Bhat Girdhar Lalji (Khoti and Aerakhera of Tehsil Pachpahar, and Dthinkui of Tehsil Gangdhar) Rs 86 0 0

(d) Dhabai Onkar Lalji (Akiya of Tehsil Pachpahar)	Rs 493 6 0
(2) Increase on account of unclaimed amanat of deceased and absconded Muafidars adjudged during the year	Rs 12,094 4 4
(3) Decrease on account of villages given in Jagirs to:—	37,493 13 2
(a) Bhai Sobhag Singhji (Borda, total Jama Rs 2,000, of which)	Rs 750 0 0
(b) Thakur Umrao Singhji (Manda and Baorikhera Kalan, total Jama Rs. 4,400 of which)	Rs 1,650 0 0
(c) Bhat Girdhar Lalji (Gadari, total Jama Rs. 1,500 of which)	560 0 0
(d) Bakhshi Abdul Ghafoor Khan (Khanpuria, total Jama 1,600 of which)	Rs 600 0 0
(e) Charan Fateh Karanji Gangapura, total Jama 1,000 of which	Rs 375 0 0
	3,935 0 0
Balance	33,558 13 2

Out of the total Jama of 16 annas in the rupee, the Kartik and Magh instalments of 4 & 6 annas respectively of the Jagir villages, bestowed upon Bhai Sobhag Singhji, Thakur Umrao Singhji, Bhakshi Abdul Ghafoor Khan, Bhat Girdharlalji, and Charan Fateh Karan, were collected by the State, and the remaining 6 annas of the Baisakh instalment by the Jagirdars concerned. Hence a decrease of only 6 annas in the Rupee of the total Jama of the villages has been shown under that head. The villages of Maji Rathorji Sahiba, Seth Lalchandji, and Dhabai Unkar Lal, have lapsed to the State since the beginning of Samvat year 1975, hence the figures shown under increase for the said villages represent the full Jama. But the increase of Rs 80, shown against Bhat Girdharlal Ji's transferred villages, represents only 6 annas instalment of Baishakh, as in lieu of these villages, the new village named Gadari was given to him after the Kartik and Magh instalments had been collected by the State.

The collection of arrears, including Taqavi & Ismwar, for the year under report amounted to Rs 5403-3-9 as detailed below:—

	Kharij	Collected	Total.
Land Revenue.	67,626 3 5	147 0 10	67,773 4 3

Taqavi:—A sum of Rs 29,760-8-0 (Rs 4,711 13 5 from the State and Rs. 25,048 10 7 from the Kashthkar Fund) was advanced as Taqavi to the cultivators for seed, bullocks etc., during the year, of which Rs 21,263 were collected, leaving a balance of Rs. 8,497-8-0 (Rs. 4,705 7 2 due to the State, and 3,792 0 10 to Kashthkar Fund). The details as follows:—

Revenue Cases:—The number of revenue cases, instituted and disposed of, is as follows:—

Wages and Labour:—For some years the supply of labour has been inadequate and the demand is considerably in excess of the supply both in towns and districts. The rates of wages have been rising considerably in consequence. The prices of food grains were very high this year owing partly to the failure of crops and partly to the embargo of the neighbouring States from which grain and especially wheat, is always imported into Chhaoni and Patan, the greatest wheat-consuming centres of this State.

Grass and Fodder:—The supply of Fodder was fairly sufficient.

Weather and Crops:—The rainy season of 1918, which affected the crops of the year under report was not generally favourable. During the month of June 1918, the Tehsils of Awar, Dag and Gangdhar had received from 3 to 6 inches of rain from a few local falls and the cultivators of those Tehsils having got tired of waiting for the usual heavy monsoon falls, commenced their sowing operations of the Kharif crops in the 3rd or 4th weeks of June in such areas as retained sufficient moisture for the purpose or were commanded by well irrigation. Fortunately, in the 1st week of July they got three inches more. This did much good to the standing crops and they went on sowing their lands till a very small area was left untilled. Then a break of three weeks followed and the sowing operations, which were still in progress here and there in those Tehsils, had to be totally stopped. In the remaining three Tehsils, viz, Patan, Shri Chhatrapur and Pachpahar, no general sowing operations had begun till the end of July, and much anxiety was being felt about the general fate of the Kharif of the year. The standing crop of Awar, Dag and Gangdhar Tehsils were at that time on the verge of being ruined for want of more rain and the whole situation seemed to be very gloomy. But fortunately another fall of 1 to 2 inches in the 1st week of August allayed the anxiety for a short time. Patan, Shri-Chhatrapur and Pachpahar Tehsils then commenced their Kharif sowings. But another break of two weeks threatened the recurrence of the same conditions as were experienced in the month of July and the sowing operations had to be slowed down, if not totally stopped. The Darbar had almost given up hope and were on the point of announcing famine officially when a copious monsoon set in and saved the situation.

But another calamity followed in the shape of Influenza Epidemic. It was in its worst form in the months of October and November 1918, when Jowar and several other Kharif crops were standing in the fields, uncared for and damaged by the village cattle and wild animals. This fell disease, which according to the official reports, is responsible for 6,000,000 deaths in India this year, swept away practically 10% of the total population of the State.

The monsoon of 1919 set in early in the month of June and the sowing operations were commenced at the usual time. But continuous rain in the month of August did a good deal of damage to the standing crops, especially to Makka. In some places certain Khatedars could not sow their lands and there was a general complaint that weeding could not be done to the desired extent on account of excessive rains. However, the break, that followed soon after, saved the Kharif crops from being totally ruined. It is hoped that the outturn of Jowar will be fairly good but that of cotton does not appear to be as good as that of Jowar.

Agricultural Department.

One of the State Scholars named Vidyadhar, having completed his training at the Agricultural College, Poona, was appointed by the Darbar to conduct well-boring operations in the State.

Opium Department.

Mr. C. S. Delmerick remained in-charge of the Department throughout the year under report, with a staff of one Head Clerk and two subordinate clerks. As there was not sufficient work for two executive officers, the services of Babu Ambica Charan, Assistant Opium Officer, were replaced at the disposal of the Darbar.

The annual expenditure sanctioned for the Department was Rs. 14,770 as detailed below:—

Salaries	Rs.	9,720
Sayarkharch	,,	150
Travelling Expenses	,,	900
Commission to Tehsil people	,,	3,000
Miscellaneous	,,	1,000
Total				,, 14,770

In the second year of the contract, the State was required to supply 787 maunds 20 seers of opium to the Ghazipur Factory, but as the conditions were most unfavourable to poppy cultivation, it was early seen that it was impossible to supply anything like the required amount. In the first place monsoon was scanty, and enough rain had not fallen to fill up the wells used for irrigation.

The water level too had receded considerably, and in many of the wells there was not sufficient water for poppy cultivation. Again in October a virulent type of Influenza visited Jhalawar which not only killed off about 10% of the population, but rendered those who recovered too weak to work in the fields. Thus only 5,086 Bighas, 11 Biswas were sown, as compared with 8,787 Bighas 1 Biswa last season.

Patan	769	0
Shrichhatrapur	231	5
Pachpahar	767	12
Awar	1,434	18
Dag	820	19
Gangdhar	1,062	17
Total				5,086	11

The Darbar paid as advances to cultivators the sum of Rs. 8/- per Bigha, as detailed below:—

Patan	Rs. 15,000
Shrichhatrapur	" 5,000
Pachpahar	" 16,000
Awar	" 18,500
Dag	" 16,000
Gangdhar	" 24,000
Total				" 94,500

The actual area brought under cultivation was 5,086 Bighas and 11 Biswas, as compared with 8,787 Bighas and 1 Biswa of the last year. Even with this contracted area the sowings were considerably delayed, due to causes over which the cultivators had no control, and which have been shown above.

The Opium Officer went into camp in January 1919, and again in April 1919. He went through all the Tehsils and visited a number of opium-growing villages, where he instructed the people how to extract the drug without the aid of oil. In his tour he noticed that on the whole poppy plant though backward was healthy and strong, and if favourable conditions prevailed, he considered that the outturn would not be much below than that of last season. He was then suddenly recalled to Head Quarters by the serious illness of His Highness at Delhi.

The opium weighments were carried out at the following centres in the Districts:—

Dag	14 th April to 20th April 1919
Gangdhar	...	22nd	" " 24th " "
Pachpahar	...	27th	" " 30th " "
Chhaoni	...	3rd & 4th	May, 1919.

The results of the weighments were as follows:—

Tehsil	Weight of Opium
	Mds.	sr.	ch.
Patan	47	13	10
Shri--chhatrapur	16	8	10
Pachpahar	59	28	10
Awar	97	31	9
Dag	40	11	4
Gangdhar	62	23	6
Total	323	37	1

Out of the above quantity, 321 maunds 34 seers and 14 chks. of opium were chalaned to Ghazipur, and 2 maunds 2 seers and 3 Chks. were taken over by the State, as it was unfit for the Factory.

Last season it was considered necessary to import 3 Moharrirs from the Benares Opium Agency to help at the weighments, as no men acquainted with the work could be had here, but this season only one Moharrir was obtained. Next season it is hoped this will be unnecessary.

The following amount was paid to the Revenue Department as commission for the extra work imposed upon them in connection with opium:—

Tehsil.	Amount.
Patan	Rs 288	5	0
Shri-chhatrapur	„ 51	4	6
Pachpahar	„ 289	13	0
Awar	„ 535	14	3
Dag	„ 310	5	9
Gangdhar... ..	„ 415	4	3
Total Rs	1,890	14	9

The total expenditure during the year under review is as follows:—

Salary	Rs 9,853	13	6
Sayarkharch	„ 124	11	10
Travelling	„ 918	2	5
Commission to Tehsil people	„ 2,094	2	9
Miscellaneous	„ 556	6	9
Gumashta	„ 60	7	6
Shed at Bhawaniganj	„ 254	7	3
Total Rs	13,862	4	0

Considerable inconvenience and discomfort are experienced for want of proper accommodation during weighment, but it is quite realised that any large expenditure on this account can not be incurred until the cultivation of poppy is completely established in the State. At present the Opium Officer is getting all is requirements from the Ghazipur Factory on loan, and the chemicals etc. free of charge.

Customs Department.

Mehta Bakhtawar Chand remained in charge of the Department throughout the year.

Imports and Exports:—The principal figures for the articles of import and export are as follows:—

6. Oil	803	338

Owing to restrictions on the movements of food-grains in British India as well as in the neighbouring States, especially Kotah, which is the granary of Jhalawar, there was very great shortage of grain in Jhalawar, and the Darbar were compelled to have recourse to the adoption of similar measures in this State also, and no grain was allowed to be exported from Jhalawar without their special sanction.

The Darbar also issued orders that one seer of grain per rupee, over and above the prevailing rates, should be given to all the employes of the State, whose salaries were less than Rs 10 per month, as well as to other poor and needy persons of Chhaoni and Patan. The extra expenditure incurred on this account was paid both by the State and the firm of Seth Binodi Ram Balchand of Patan in equal proportions. Thanks are due to the Seths for their sympathetic co-operation.

Excise Department.

The Department constituted of the following staff:—

Superintendent	One
Girdawars	Two
Clerk	One
Chaprasis	Four

Since 1st January 1918, the Madras Standard system has been introduced in the State. Babu Bankey Behari Lal held charge of the Department until 19th May, 1919, when he suddenly died. In him the State has lost an efficient member of the Revenue Department.

The spirit is being imported from Messrs Munna Lal and Sons, Nowgong, and in the year under report the total revenue from this source amounted to Rs 32,918-12-6, against Rs 23,257-6-3 of the previous year. There are three go-downs for the spirit to stock, and 68 liquor shops. 11,340 proof gallons were consumed against 6,703 proof gallons of the last year. The spirit is sold at 3 strengths viz. 15 U. P., 25 U. P., & 60 U. P.

The farming system still exists in Kirpapur Tehsil, a mountainous tract with little population, where the means of transport are difficult, if not impossible.

The number of excise opium shops was 63 against 59 last year. A duty of Rs 2 per seer is levied on local consumption, while the rest of the revenue is derived from the License fee. The Revenue thus collected amounted to Rs 6,064-1-10 in the year under report against Rs 2,955-1-3 of the previous year.

Mines.

The mineral resources of the State are as under:—

1. Copper ore, in easily reducible condition—found near Chhaoni.
2. Laterite, containing large quantities of Aluminium suitable for the manufacture of Aluminium and its salts—found in immense quantities all over the Parganas of Pachpahar, Awar and Dag, and portions of Gangdhar.
3. Dolomite-clay, containing large quantities of magnesium—found in the Pachpahar Pargana.
4. Clay, suitable for pottery on the wheel and Bauxite, a valuable ore of aluminium,—found in the above localities.
5. Yellow and red ochre—found in the Dag Pargana.
6. Lime-stone, very suitable for the manufacture of Hydraulic and Portland cements—found near Chhaoni.
7. Quartz, in a very pure state which can be used in the manufacture of glass—found near Chhaoni.
8. Agate, which can be made into mortar and fancy articles—found near Chhaoni.
9. Sandstone of the first quality—available in large quantities near Chhaoni.

Quarries:—The quarries near Chhaoni yield white and red sand-stone of the best quality. But they cannot be worked profitably owing to their distance from the Railway Station. The quality of the sandstone, however, attracts some purchasers from outside. The Darbar contemplate starting a stone depot at the Shrichhatrapur Railway Station (N. M. Railway) in case there be demand enough to enable the quarries to be worked on an extensive scale.

CHAPTER V.

P R O T E C T I O N .

I. JUDICIAL DEPARTMENT

General:—The Administration of Civil & Criminal Justice in the State is conducted on the lines laid down in the State Civil and Criminal Codes, in which the spirit of the British Indian Codes is generally followed.

There was no change in the personnel of the Judicial Department during the year.

1. Police.

The Department is controlled by the Foujdar (Magistrate, who is also the Superintendent of Police). In the year under report the Police force consisted of 29 Sowars and 356 officers and constables as compared with 29 Sowars and 353 officers and constables of the previous year. The constables are recruited from almost all classes and are armed with country matchlocks and swords. The whole force is distributed into two Kotwalis (Chhaoni & Patan), 5 Thanas (one at Garnawad in the Tehsil of Shrichhatrapur, and one at each of the Tehsil Head-quarters: Pachpahar, Awar, Dag and Gangdhar) and Two Sub-Thanas (at Bhawaniganj and Shrichhatrapur).

The Police Sowars are a part of the body known as the Risala of Chauhlehla, about one-half of which does police duty and the other half assists in the collection of land revenue by summoning Asamis and Manotidars residing in the adjoining States, or in villages situated at some distance from the Tehsil Head-quarters. The whole force is available for police duty, when required.

In addition to the above-mentioned force there are 166 village watchmen who hold rent-free lands in the villages in which they live, and are responsible for keeping peace and order in their respective villages, for watching roads at night, and for reporting offences to the Thanedars in whose circles their villages are situated. These village watchmen are locally known as "Sansris" and are under the control of the Police Department.

The spirit of the British Indian Criminal Law is followed in the investigation of crimes. The system of taking Finger Tip Impressions of Criminals and suspects is also in force and is carried on by Mr. B. L. Sharma who has been trained in this system at the Abu Finger Print Bureau.

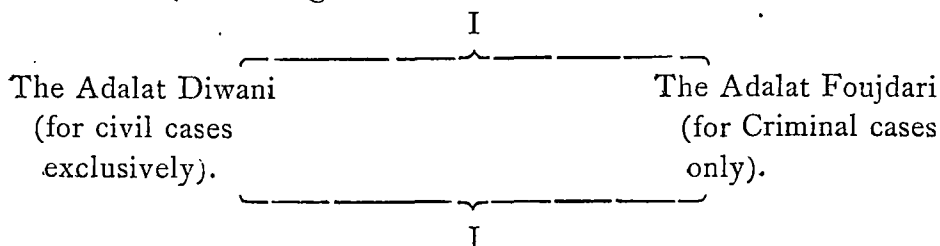

Table IV gives the details of the strength and the cost of the Police Force and tables V and VI give the results of the working of the Police.

Only two miles of the Shrichhatrapur and Kotah roads were consolidated during the year. Material was collected for repairs to the Asnawar, Durra, Shri-Chhatrapur, and Chhaoni outside roads. The total lengths of metalled roads and fair weather roads in the State are 64 miles and 77 miles respectively.

4. Irrigation.

The sum of Rs. 619 was spent on construction of the second canal of the Mundla Kheri tank and the remaining sum on necessary repairs to tanks and canals.

5. Miscellaneous Improvements.

The amount was expended as follows:—

1.	Power House	2,120
2.	Miscellaneous	431
3.	Malar Singh's Garden	767
4.	Storage tank at Shrichhatrapur	972
					4,290

Power House:—The amount was expended in maintaining and running the electric light and pumping plant which supply light and water to the Prithvi Vilas Palace and Parmanand Hostel. The department remained under the direct charge of Mr. Jagmohan Lal Bhatnagar, the Electric Engineer.

Malar Singh's Garden:—The work was started last year and completed during the year under report. The total cost of making the ground and roads of the garden amounted to Rs. 927, including Rs. 160, of last year.

Storage Tank:—The liquid fuel for the oil engine was brought in iron drums and there was much loss by leakage etc. It is therefore proposed to bring the fuel in tank wagons and to make a storage tank at the Railway station. The work is in progress.

Flour Mill Plant.

The Flour Mill receipts and expenditure for the year amounted to Rs. 2,723 and Rs. 1,279 respectively. Thus the net profit amounts to Rs. 1,444.

Marriage expenses.

The expenditure under this head consists of certain improvements in the existing buildings and was incurred as detailed below:—

	Rs.
1. Garh Palace (certain additions and alterations)	15,117
2. Garh Palace (Electric and Sanitary installation)	31,082
3. Berkley House at Shrichhatrapur ...	15,360
4. Gadikhana Shops, Chhaoni ...	1,541
5. Ameeruddaula High School, Patan ...	3,128
6. Additions and alterations to Kothi Patan (Madan Vilas Palace) ...	1,970

All these works, are in progress, a detailed account of them will be given in the Report of the next year. The last named work is stopped on account of the lamentable death of Her Highness the Maharani Hadiji Sahiba.

Local Fund.

The only work in progress is the Balchand Hospital at Patan, for which the funds are being paid by Seth Binodiram Balchand. The total expenditure upto the end of the year amounted to Rs 3,433, including Rs. 740 of the last year.

Establishment:—The present establishment is sufficient for ordinary work. The percentage of establishment charges on works is 10.42 against 22.3 of last year.

CHAPTER VII.

EDUCATION

General:—The department is under the general control of Pandit Shyam Shankar Ji M. A., Bar-at-Law, and under the direct control of Bhaya Shadi Lal Ji B. A. LL. B., Director of Education. Pandit Ram Saran Tiwari B. A. continued to work as Inspector of Schools during the year.

The total of schools at the end of the year under report was 46, as detailed below:—

1. High School, (Darbar High School, Jhalrapatan) ...	1
2. English Middle School (at Patan) ...	1
3. Vernacular Middle Schools for boys ...	5
4. Vernacular Middle school for Girls (Colvin Girls School) 1
5. Primary Schools for Boys ...	31
6. Primary Schools for girls ...	7

The total number of pupils on the rolls in all the schools was 2,390, with a daily average attendance of 1,541, as compared with 2,623 pupils and 1,786 average attendance of last year. There is apparently a slight falling off in the number, being due to the influenza epidemic, which carried away very large number of people, and consequently the burden of supporting their needy families devolved on the survivors, many of whom are of tender age. Moreover, the prices of all the necessaries of life have risen so high that an ordinary man in narrow circumstances finds it difficult to manage to make both ends meet and is constrained to work to increase his income. These two causes are chiefly responsible for the slight decrease in the number of pupils.

Darbar High School, Jhalrapatan:—Mr. Sant Ram M. A., B.T. continued to work as Head Master of the High School during the year. The staff consisted of 6 Assistant Masters (two of whom are Graduates), two Science Masters, 2 Pandits, 2 Moulvis and one Drawing Master.

The Matriculation results this year were unsatisfactory. Out of the 13 boys sent up for the examination only 2 were successful, against 6 out of 6 or cent per cent last year, most of the failures being in History and Geography. As reported by the Head Master, the unsatisfactory result was mainly due to unavoidable changes in the staff.

Various societies established in the School last year for elevating the moral tone and improving the argumentative capabilities of the scholars and for the introduction of upto-date methods of teaching, worked smoothly and un-interruptedly.

Due attention was also paid to physical culture, but as reported by the Head Master, the insufficiency of funds at his disposal prevented organization of games and sports on the desired scale. However, the grant of a handsome sum by His Highness from his own pocket, has supplied the want. Consequently scholars have begun to take a keen interest in athletic sports.

The school opens with a common prayer which is not calculated to offend the religious susceptibilities of the scholars holding a variety of beliefs and dogmas. It has had a healthy influence on the discipline of the school.

Permanand Hostel:—The Hostel was founded by His Highness to perpetuate the memory of the late Diwan Bahadur Pandit Parmanand Chaturvedi B. A., Diwan of the Jhalawar State, and was opened in the year 1915. Out of the 66 boarders on the register on the 1st October 1918, one was allowed by the Darbar to work as an apprentice in the Forest department of the State, I joined the Education Department as a village teacher, I joined the Agra College after passing his Matriculation examination, 2 died of influenza, and 8 were forced by circumstances to discontinue their studies, and were consequently permitted by His Highness to leave the Hostel for good. There were 7 new admissions. Thus the number of inmates at the end of the year, i. e. on the 30th September, 1919, was 60, as classified below according caste.

1.	Rajputs	33
2.	Brahmins	2
3.	Kayasthas	2
4.	Mahajans	4
5.	Sondhias	6
6.	Charans	2
7.	Kulmis	2
8.	Mohammadans	2
9.	Khanazads	5
10.	Jat	1
11.	Rao	1
Total					60

Of these, 37 are at the Darbar High School, Jhalrapatan, and 23 at the Feeder Branch Schools. Of the former 30 were successful in their annual examinations, 2 were promoted on trial, and 5 failed; while of the latter 14 passed and 9 failed.

One student named Birdhichand, who passed his Matriculation examination this year has joined the Intermediate Class of the Agra College, and gets a scholarship of Rs. 45/- a month from the State

One of the Hostel inmates, Prithi Singh Jhala, was selected by His Highness to succeed to the Thikana of the late Kaka Chhatrasalji of Borda Urmal, a premier noble of the State. He has been given the name of Bhai Sobhag Singhji, and is granted full Tazim by H. H.

Pandit Dinkar Rao Sapre, remained in charge of the Hostel as Superintendent, and was assisted in his work by a Science Graduate of the Calcutta University, and two vernacular teachers. Sub-Assistant Surgeon T. C. Dike of the Chhaoni Hospital has been deputed by the Darbar to look after the health of the boarders and the sanitary arrangements of the Hostel, and receives an allowance of Rs. 15 a month for the extra work. As for physical exercise the boys undergo drill and participate in games such as Cricket, Football, Hockey etc, for one hour every evening.

His Highness has from the beginning evinced deep interest and paternal care in the welfare and advancement of the institution. All the inmates are provided with food, clothing, books, and all other requisites, free of charge. The total expenditure incurred on the maintenance of the Hostel amounted to Rs. 12,000 approximately.

Archaeological Museum:—Two stone inscriptions and one idol, lying unprotected in the suburbs of Chhaoni and Patan, have been removed to the Museum. Some gold, silver and copper coins have also been added to the numismatic section of the Museum and others were purchased or presented.

The expenditure under this head amounted to Rs. 463-15

Kemball Library:—Pandit Ram Saran Tiwari, B. A. held charge of the Library during the year, and was assisted in his work by 3 assistants, one each for the English, Sanskrit, and Persian-Arabic sections. One more Moulvi, a Persian and Arabic scholar, has also been added to the Oriental Section during the year.

His Highness has very kindly presented some old manuscripts to the Library.

CHAPTER VIII.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

Charge:—Assistant Surgeon Ramlal Ji, L. M. & S. officiated for the Agency Surgeon, Jhalawar State, during the whole year, under the visiting charge of Major C. B. Mc. Conaghy I. M. S. from 1st October 1918 to 23rd January, 1919, and Lieut. Colonel J. W. Watson I. M. S. from 24th January 1919 to 30th September, 1919 respectively.

Medical Staff:—Medical Staff remained the same as last year.

Medical Relief:—36,942 out-patients and 233 in-patients received treatment at the various dispensaries during the year as compared with 39,344 out-patients and 250 in-patients during the previous year. The decrease is due to health remaining good throughout the year excepting the months of September, October, and November during which time Influenza prevailed.

Operations:—1,223 operations were performed during the year, of which the selected ones are detailed below:—

On tumours	3
On Cysts	2
On fractured bones	34
Amputations	3
Removal of nasal polypus	1
Extraction of lens	4
Opening of mastoid antrum	1
For haemorrhoids	5
Lithotomy	2
For Hydrocele by incision and inversion of the sac	2
Version	1
Removal of dead Foetus	1
Other obstetric operations	2

Sanitation:—There was no change in the sanitary arrangements as compared with the previous year.

Epidemics:—Smallpox prevailed in sporadic form. Influenza was prevalent from the middle of September to the middle of November in an epidemic form. The State remained free from plague or cholera this year.

Vaccination:—The number of vaccinations performed during the year is 1,814 as against 1,954 of the previous year, the decrease being mainly due to the influenza epidemic.

Brief report on the Influenza Epidemic, as submitted by the State Surgeon.

During this epidemic, Influenza occurred in all its four forms, viz, respiratory, gastro-intestinal, nervous, and febrile. The most common form was the respiratory, and next to it, combined respiratory and nervous. The two remaining forms manifested themselves in a few scattered cases.

The symptoms exhibited by the patients were, in respiratory form, fever preceded by rigor, head-ache, pain in the throat, rawness behind the sternum, heaviness about the chest, and cough, which was in some cases dry and in others accompanied by slight mucous expectoration. In some cases a very distressing cough without any signs of coryza, troubled the patient. When the larynx and trachea were affected, in addition to rasping cough, choking sensations were felt. The patients in whom infection remained confined to the throat, got well within 3 or 4 days, though the cough lasted for some time longer. The attacks were prolonged in proportion as infection travelled downward to the respiratory tract. In cases complicated with bronchitis it lasted for over a fortnight, cough continuing even after recovery for over a month. When pneumonia crept in, the attacks were indefinitely prolonged, accompanied with extreme prostration and cardiac asthenia, the pulse being very frequent, irregular, and compressible. Other physical signs were added to the above symptoms. In the cases with moderate symptoms un-complicated with pneumonia, temperature ranged from 100 F. to 103 F., with a pulse rate of 100 to 120.

In pneumonic cases, temperature sometimes went up to 105-106 or above that. Sometimes in low forms of pneumonia occurring among ill-fed people, temperature was not above 100-101, and the pulse was above 130.

In gastro-intestinal cases the symptoms manifested were, in addition to slight throat symptoms, nausea, vomiting, pain and tenderness in the hepatic region, complete anorexia, bitter taste and diarrhoea.

In the nervous type there were severe headache in the frontal region at the root of the nose and in the temple, injection of the eyes, severe shooting pains in the extremities, back, at the front and sides of the chest, and active delirium.

In combined respiratory and nervous forms, the symptoms mentioned above were added to the respiratory ones.

In the last form, i. e. febrile, there was fever only with alternate sensations of heat and chills. Fever was rarely above 103F but toxemia was great, pulse being small, weak and rapid.

As regards mortality, those who resorted to treatment immediately after the attack, recovered. Almost all cases complicated with pneumonia among ill-fed people proved fatal. In severe cases, among young and strong adults with a tendency to determination of blood to the lungs and head, severe forms of inflammation of the lungs, developed with pronounced nervous symptoms, proved fatal.

The epidemic began at Pachpahar on September 16th, 1918. Thence it spread to Bhawaniganj, 3 miles to the east of Pachpahar. The villages round about Pachpahar were there-after affected. In this district there were 14 villages of which some remained quite immune and some were slightly affected by it. The epidemic assumed an extremely virulent form in the month of October, having lasted for 64 days. The total number of attacks for the districts as a whole was estimated at 4,500, out of which 1,104 proved fatal. The average daily mortality was 17. At Pachpahar proper the total number of deaths was 163 for a period of 41 days, thus giving 4 as the daily mortality during the days of the epidemic.

In the last week of September the disease made its appearance in the suburban area of Jhalrapatan City, attacking Kolies (the weaver class), who travel from place to place for the purpose of selling their cloths, and thereafter it extended its ravages among the Mochis and Chamars, and thence among Gujars and Mohammadans, the labouring classes. Very few cases occurred among the well-to-do class of Mahajans. These few attacks include such people as remain in ill-ventilated and unsanitary houses, and resorted to medical aid when it was too late.

The epidemic lasted from the last week of September to the last week of November, its virulence being at its highest during October, continuing in sporadic form till about the end of November. Almost all the villages remained infected during this period. Among 50 villages it was very virulent and among 28 its virulence was moderate, and 10 villages remained nearly free. These were situated at a higher level and in dry regions. The total deaths for Patan City were 559 and for the districts 1,063, the average per diem coming to 9.50 and 17.43 respectively. In normal conditions the death rate of Patan City is 1.69. The rate for the districts is not available.

Shrichhatrapur was simultaneously affected, the disease having first spread near the railway station. All the villages were infected, excepting 3 villages where the spread was moderate. In the middle of October its intensity reached its climax, deaths among young people were chiefly noticeable. The daily average mortality was 14.

In Chhaoni Jhalrapatan, the epidemic began in the first week of October, lasting till the end of the 1st week of November. It gradually increased in severity, attaining its maximum virulence by the middle of October, and with a gradual decline continued with diminishing vigour till the end of the 1st week of November. Medical aid was afforded to nearly 800 persons by the Chhaoni Dispensary, the same number being considered to have been treated by each of the two local Hakims. Of these, some died too early to receive treatment, others being mildly affected did not care much for it, or were treated by quacks.

The total number of attacks may approximately be estimated at 3,000, out of which 760 proved fatal, giving a percentage of mortality to attacks of 25.1, average daily deaths 20, the normal being 1.

Mortality, as referred to elsewhere, occurred here also mostly among the ill-fed people living in closed un-sanitary and ill-ventilated houses.

In the Jail at Chhaoni Jhalrapatan, 41 prisoners with a daily average strength of 55.36 were attacked, out of whom 4 died.

No preventive measures in the form of quarantine etc. could be adopted to retard the progress of the epidemic, and the steps taken to minimise its severity are detailed below. As the epidemic was widespread and almost entire families were attacked, with a view to make medical aid easily accessible to them, arrangements for distributing medicines from house to house were made. The Head Master of the Darbar High School and his staff volunteered their services and cheerfully continued their work throughout the epidemic. In the Jhalrapatan City special men were engaged to distribute medicines.

Food and clothing were distributed at the expense of the State. Private funds were also collected and utilised for supplying the same to the poor and destitute.

In addition to the aid rendered by the Chhaoni Dispensary, two local Hakims (of which one is a State employee) rendered assistance to such as sought their aid.

Treatment. Two stock mixtures, called No: 1 and No: 2, for convenience, were used.

No: 1 consisted of the following:—

Potass Acetass	grs.	10
Spt. Aether Nitrosi	mms.	20
Liq Ammonia acetass	drs.	2
Ammonia Carb	grs.	4
Tincture Ipecac	mms.	10
„ Camphor Co.	„	20
Aqua Chloroform	oz.	1

Q. D. S.

This was used in the acute stage of the disease.

No: 2 consisted of:—

Ammonia Carb	grs.	4
Tincture Cinchona Co	drs.	1
Aqua	oz.	1

T. D. S.

Mixture No: 2 was administered during the subacute convalescent stage of recovery. Sometimes a preliminary purgative of Blue Pill and Mag. Sulph. was given. In laryngeal and tracheal cases, besides the application of iodine-glycerine to the throat inside, iodine was painted externally on the front of the neck, and cotton wool and a light bandage applied. In cases complicated with bronchitis, turpentine liniments and fomentations were advised, and in some cases the bronchitis kettle was used. In pneumonic conditions Anti-Phlogistine when available and counter irritation with Tincture Iodine was resorted to. Strychnine digitalis and Spt. Vini Gallici were added to Mixture No: 2. In nervous cases symptoms complicated with pneumonia, bromides with stimulants were given. In febrile cases exhibiting delirium without pneumonia, bromide was most efficacious. For pains in the limbs etc. liniments A. B. C. had good effect, soda salicylate internally.

Diet consisted of milk and soup in all cases as available.

In certain villages, branding of the chest, immediately after the attack is spoken of as having had marvellous effect.

No other special line of treatment was adopted. Neuritis, Asthenopia, falling of the hair and deafness were noticed after recovery.

No bacteriological research could be performed.

CHAPTER IX.

MISCELLANEOUS.

Municipality.

There are two Municipalities (one at Chhaoni and the other at Patan) which look after the sanitation and lighting of the towns, and dispose of such cases as easements. The Members of the Committee are officials, bankers, traders and other persons of local influence. They work honorarily, receiving no remuneration for their services. Under the Chhaoni Municipality the conservancy arrangements are good and the town is kept clean by an establishment of 50 men, including 4 sanitary policemen, 1 Jamadar, and 45 sweepers, 4 carts and 7 buffaloes, under a sanitary Inspector, who daily inspects the different Mohallas. For the town of Patan, the establishment consists of 4 sanitary policemen, 1 Jamadar and 29 sweepers, 3 carts and 4 buffaloes. The Tehsildar of Patan superintends the work of the Patan Municipality. Besides the above, there are District Municipalities, established at the head-quarters of every Tehsil, and managed by respectable citizens of the place, under the control of the Tehsildars concerned. (Details of the receipts and expenditure of the Municipalities are given in Appendix XVI).

Post and Telegraph.

The State joined the Imperial Postal system in the year 1900, when the Post Offices of the State were abolished. There are eight Post Offices in the State, of which 4 are Sub Offices and 4 Branch. Of these three are combined Post & Telegraph Offices, viz. at Jhalrapatan, Jhalrapatan City and Bhawani-ganj.

Mint, Weights and Measures.

The State mint was closed in 1901, when the British rupee was made the sole legal tender. The weights and measures of British India were also introduced into the State at the same time.

Railway Communications.

The Nagda Muttra Railway runs through the entire length of the State and has accelerated communication and facilitated trade with distant places.

The Railway Stations within the limits of the State are:—Chaumehla (Gangdhar), Pachpahar, and Shrichhatrapur, the last named being joined to the Capital, Jhalrapatan, by a metalled road 17 miles in length.

Meteorology.

His Highness's new Palace (the Prithvi Vilas Palace) is furnished with up-to-date meteorological apparatus. But the rainfall at the Capital and the Tehsil Head-quarters is recorded by the rain-gauges at the local Hospitals. (For the statement of rainfall vide appendix XVII).

Social Reforms.

The local Walterkrit Committee continue to do useful work. Marriages among the Rajputs are celebrated according to the rules laid down by the Committee, and the Nukta ceremony has been prohibited since January, 1913. No infringements of the Sabha-rules were brought to light in connection with any of the marriages or funeral ceremonies during the year.

Treasure Trove.

No treasure trove was reported during the year.

General condition of the State and the people.

The general condition of the people was affected by the prolonged war. Trade having fallen off owing to the transport difficulties the commercial class suffered. The abnormally high prices of the necessities of life were much felt by the people.

Moreover, the influenza, which broke out in an epidemic form in the month of September and lasted for about two months, killed no less than 10% of the population. But for the precautionary measures adopted by the Darbar to check its spread and to eradicate the evil at the outset, the mortality would have been still heavier.

Free medicines were distributed to the influenza patients and they were properly fed and looked after. Arrangements were even made by the Darbar to watch the standing crops of such ploughmen as were seized by influenza or died of it.

Jhalawar Sewa Samiti.

A well organised charitable institution, under the name of 'Jhalawar Sewa Samiti', has been constituted at Jhalrapatan, solely with a view to afford relief to destitute widows and children and to serve the public. The society was formed in January 1919, and owes its existence to the munificent contributions of the Jhalawar public in lump sums and monthly subscriptions. A deputation on behalf of the society attended on His Highness on the 18th April, 1919 requesting him to extend his gracious patronage to the Sewa Samiti, which he very kindly condescended to do, and was pleased to grant a monthly allowance of Rs. 100 in aid of the society, in addition to a donation of Rs. 1,000 as a lump sum. The Samiti cannot adequately express its gratitude to the donor. Pandit Shyam Shankar, M.A., Bar-at-Law and Mr. Atal Behari Lal Mathur, B.A. were elected as General President and Secretary respectively of the Society and worked as such throughout the year.
